

Confidentiality and Responsibility

During this Marked Men for Christ experience you will be given the opportunity to acknowledge your brokenness and begin healing the wounds you carry because of your sins. All persons who participate must agree to confidentiality, that is what is said here is said in confidence — it will not leave this place.

With that understanding you must also realize that when we reasonably believe harm is continuing or will occur in the future, we all have a responsibility to report to proper authorities current, on-going harm or potential harm to any person who is at risk of sexual, physical, or financial victimization, including but not limited to women, children, the handicapped and the elderly. In other words, we cannot protect the confidentiality of present, on-going or future illegal, abusive, or “sexual offender” activities.

I have read the above statement and understand its application to me.
